

Pregnant Transgender Men... A Nation of Murderers... What Next?

Who gave Politicians the power of Life and Death? I did not vote Politicians into Parliament to have them decide who lives and who dies! It's genocide dressed up in 'political drag'.

The absolute arrogance and liberal extremism that's gone mad has taken the Abortion Legislation Bill to where Hannah Tamaki predicted. Eight months ago at the Vision New Zealand party launch, she said that it "Would go to full-term along with dangerous extras from the Loony-Left". The media at the time mocked the possibility.

Other than the atrocious abortion laws pending, there is the very sick state of our nation's beliefs, ideologies and thinking. Experimentation and the harvesting of baby parts, organ parts and vaccine derivatives have already been taking place with horrific accounts of gory scenes of babies bodies ripped into bits. With this latest bill, if an abortion is unsuccessful and a child is born that child will not receive the same medical care and treatment as any other child born... can you believe it? An amendment to correct this flawed legislation was voted down by our MPs last night. No matter where you stand on the Abortion debate, with the many issues considered and discussed, the very conscience of a person must tell you that Life is a gift to us, that is to be protected and preserved.

The brute beastly nature of wayward man has condescended into brutalizing and killing the very essence and genesis of life itself, in the safest place on the planet, in the woman's womb! A modern form of paganism and satanic ritualism has penetrated the Liberal Left ideology, obvious by the culture of death (Abortion, Euthanasia) and the destruction of western culture. Baby-killing was an ancient satanic ritual, an expression of ideologies and beliefs from those who have long rejected the Christian God!

Christianity has long been held as the bedrock of western civilization and stable democracies. This all flies in the face of course to Socialism, Globalists and Liberals, and provides some insight underneath the mad politics you see now in our politicians.

With a second reading pass of 81 votes for, to 39 against, it looks as if this Abortion Legislation Bill will sail through on its final reading.

If you think Brian Tamaki is drivelling again, the truth to what has been said previously in this article comes alive when Green MP Jan Logie (and here come the extras Hannah Tamaki spoke of 8 months ago) wants to add an amendment and it's the Transgender issue. Logie wants the language changed, she wants to "remove references to pregnant women and replace them with references to pregnant people", meaning she said, that Transgender men are capable of becoming pregnant. I can imagine now, a bunch of Kiwi blokes standing around laughing and joking at the idea, that one of them, one day could become pregnant. It's no joke now! Here we are, realising this is in our politics and ready to be voted on and made law!

How stupid and possessed has this country become? How low have some of our most (so-called) intelligent politicians, media and certain groups in this country become? I'm a Kiwi bloke, father, grandfather and now great-grandfather with three married adult children, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. I've worked hard all my life, grown up in a typical Kiwi New Zealand. I say all of that to say this, you have to be concerned at what kind of New Zealand are we going to get in 10 years time. What kind of New Zealand will my children's children grow up in?

If what is happening now is any indication...then we seriously need to Take New Zealand Back!
